DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. In view of the Appeal Brief filed on 6/23/03, PROSECUTION IS HEREBY REOPENED. A new ground of rejection is set forth below.

To avoid abandonment of the application, appellant must exercise one of the following two options:

- (1) file a reply under 37 CFR 1.111 (if this Office action is non-final) or a reply under 37 CFR 1.113 (if this Office action is final); or,
- (2) request reinstatement of the appeal.

If reinstatement of the appeal is requested, such request must be accompanied by a supplemental appeal brief, but no new amendments, affidavits (37 CFR 1.130, 1.131 or 1.132) or other evidence are permitted. See 37 CFR 1.193(b)(2).

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the rounded-off notches, rounded-off areas, hollow spaces and undercuts must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

4. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Adachi et al. (US 5,860,401).

Adachi et al. disclose a method for increasing the wear-resistance of a work piece comprising connecting the work piece (42) to a core material (46, 67) that cannot be reshaped and which is of a greater hardness than the work piece material (note that the core material is formed from a sintered iron which has a higher strength and wear resistance than the work piece which is formed from an aluminum or aluminum alloy, see lines 5-13 of col. 5 and lines 16-27 of col. 6) in a form-fitting manner by means of cold-extrusion or hot-extrusion, wherein the core material has additional shaped elements (e.g., Figure 7 indicates that core material 67 has additional shaped elements which can be defined by two pair of angularly inclined portions near the areas of reference 67 and 89) provided on a peripheral surface of the core material for securing the core material against torsion in the work piece.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 6 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Adachi et al. (US 5,860,401) in view of Nakashima et al. (US 5,582,281).

Adachi et al. disclose the claimed invention except for indicating that the additional shaped elements are constituted by a knurling, and rounded-off notches or rounded-off areas or hollow spaces or undercuts.

Nakashima et al., on the other hand, teach a method for increasing a wear resistance of a work piece (1) by attaching a core material (2) thereon wherein the core material has a knurling (7) that is provided on a peripheral surface of the core material (see Figure 1(a)). Nakashima et al. further teach a core material has a rounded-off notches or rounded-off areas (3) on a peripheral surface of the core material. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified Adachi et al.'s core material as so to include an additional shaped elements (such as a knurling and/or a rounded-off notches and/or a rounded-off area) on a peripheral surface of the core material, in a similar manner as taught in Nakashima et al., in order to provide a more efficient wear-resistance surface and also to improve the bonding strength between the two members.
